

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 25th November 2021 / Lot 1249

LOT 1249

A Doulton Lambeth stoneware jug, circa 1873, decorated by Arthur B. Barlow, monogrammed, with scrolling foliage in shades of green and brown, impressed and incised marks to base, height 18.5cm.

Estimate: £70 - £100

Condition Report

1249. The piece is generally in good condition. There is a fairly large manufacturing glaze flaw to one side of the body running from the footrim halfway up the body which does unfortunately take away from the overall design. Small crack to the rim approx 1cm in length.

Created: Tue, 16th November 2021 16:04