LOT 1389

Condition Report

The column to the back of the figure has been snapped off at the base and previously glued but it has come unstuck again and is separate - it is available with the lot and all the pieces seem to be present with a clean break. The floral arrangement at the top of the column is separated from the column with signs of previous glue, but again it is present with no losses.

Otherwise the figure group would appear to be in good condition.
