Condition Report

141. Overall in good but restored condition. The work is relatively clean. The varnish is bright although just starting to discolour. UV examination does not highlight any overpainting or restoration, but does highlight the signature which has been added at a later date, this might be emboldening an old signature, but it is very difficult to tell. The fabric surround is starting to fray in places. The frame is in good condition with minor cracks to composition (without loss) and slight rubbing to gilt on extremities.
