LOT 2161

A late Victorian brass telescopic lamp-standard, the central tier above a scrollwork base with cast claw feet, extended height 190cm, unextended height 136cm, together with another brass lampstand.

Estimate: £60 - £100

Condition Report

2161. The first with the claw feet appears to have been fitted for a wire through the bottom of the main stem, but there is not wire there currently. There does not appear to be a hole in the main stem shaft. With loss to the leather table top and some slight wear and oxidizing to metal.

The other lamp has a drilled hole through the side of the last circular mount at the base of the main shaft. This one is wired, but has the plug cut off. There is one of the floral mounts missing on the side support, but is otherwise just in need of a clean.
