LOT 2125

An Elizabethan oak joint stool, the rectangular seat above a fluted frieze with carved edge, raised on fluted and turned legs with carved pendant drops, height 53cm, width 47cm, depth 28cm (some areas of restoration).

Estimate: £800 - £1,200

Condition Report

2125. Signs of old woodworm to bottom of feet. Heavy age related wear throughout. Two of the top corners under the seat are worn away. The feet have worn over time and each is a very slightly different height. Two of the leaf drops on the frieze have been professionally replaced. Overall it has had a sensitive polish.
