Condition Report

The hilt of the sword has a very minor nick and some restoration/repainting where it joins to the sheath of the blade - this is only noticeable on closer inspection. There is some associated minor repainting to the strap of the sheath in this area, only noticeable under UV light. These issues may be production related.

There is a blank/erased area beneath the signature marks on the side edge of the figure - please see the second image on our website highlighting this.

The velvet covering of the stand is faded/discoloured.

The book is a little tired/scratched.
