

British and Continental Ceramics / Thursday, 10th March 2022 / Lot 1621

LOT 1621

A large pair of Continental porcelain Meissen style figures, late 19th century, modelled as a lady and gentleman in period dress, he with a floral posy, she with a garland, standing on floral encrusted naturalistic rectangular bases, crossed swords and incised factory marks to bases, heights 49cm and 48cm (minor faults).

Estimate: £150 - £250

Condition Report

Both generally in good condition with no real signs of restoration or wear.

Typical minor chips including to tip of plume in his hat, and flowers and foliage overall.

Created: Thu, 10th March 2022 09:26