Condition Report

2097. We believe this to be a made up piece, with the carcass from the late 20th century and other elements, like the cornice and doors, to be late 19th and early 20th century.

Piece of the base on left side is detached, age related cracks to doors, signs of old woodworm and previous mould. Wooden moulding of astragal glazing is also late 20th century. Some doors are a bit stiff and slightly misshapen.

Top and base can be separated. There are six shelves for the top section.
