Condition Report

180. Three small holes, the largest is to the right of the roses and the others are diagonally down to the right from that. Each hole has associated dents and protrusions surrounding it. The canvas is a little slack on the stretcher and slightly buckling as a result. Minor surface dirt. UV examination highlights some touches of overpainting to the right hand side of the face, further touches to the neckline and the background. The varnish is a little bright. The frame is generally ok, but has some scuffs and minor loss of composition.
