

Firearms and Edged Weapons / Tuesday, 10th May 2022 / Lot 1871

LOT 1871

An Adams' Patent 38-bore five-shot self-cocking percussion revolver with sighted octagonal barrel, barrel length 19.5cm, detailed 'Deane Adams & Deane, 30 King William St, London Bridge', line-engraved frame, detailed 'Adams' Patent No. 13,521. R', chequered walnut grip and steel butt cap with hinged percussion trap, with associated leather holster.

Estimate: £600 - £900

---

Condition Report

1871. Overall wear and scratches, some heavier than others. Small amount of blueing remaining. Some heavy pitting, tool marks around the beginning of the barrel and the front of the cylinder. Trigger guard, cylinder and butt plates show old signs of rust and cleaning. Section to top of wooden grip missing, 1cm x 1cm. Action works smoothly.

Created: Mon, 9th May 2022 15:13