LOT 1710

An engraved drinking glass, early 19th century, the trumpet bowl with an auctioneer's gavel within a frame inscribed 'CAVEAT EMPTOR' surrounded by gilt enriched foliate scrollwork, raised on a wrythen moulded baluster stem and conical foot, height 12cm.

Estimate: £40 - £60

Condition Report

The glass is in good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration.

Having a closer look the inscription is incorrectly spelt and reads 'EMPTOP'

The frame around the gavel has only sporadic remains of its gilt decoration, as does the rim.

There are typical overall surface scratches commensurate with age and use, with some very minor cloudy to the rim interior.
