

British and Continental Ceramics / Wednesday, 1st June 2022 / Lot 1410

LOT 1410

Eight Bow porcelain knife and fork hafts, mid-18th century, each of pistol grip shape, painted in blue with scrolling lambrequin beneath a cell border, mounted with contemporary metal ferrules, tines and blades, total length of knives 26cm, forks 22cm (faults and repairs).

Estimate: £200 - £300

Condition Report

Knives - two in good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration. One with large repaired break and associated area of putty type filling. One with approx 1cm square chip out of rim and tiny spot of filling near to ferrule. Two ferrules are matched.

Forks - one with minor haircrack to top near ferrule. One with horizontal crack running around middle of handle. One missing metal button to base end of handle. One in good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration.

Created: Mon, 30th May 2022 14:29