Condition Report

Diamonds are generally fairly white stones.

The three centre stones are old mine cuts, the outer stones are more circular.

One outer diamond has a chip to the girdle/pavilion between two claws. The same stone has a large chip to the crown under one claw.

In general the diamonds have one or two inclusions noticeable under x10 magnification.

A few of the claws are showing signs of wear and will need re-tipping.

Some general thinning to the shank.

Measurements are approximate and limited by the setting:

Old mine cuts - 3mm x 2.5mm

Outer stones - 1.5mm diameter
