Condition Report

One diamond has an internal feather on one side reaching from the girdle to the edge of the table, whitish in colour and visible without magnification.

The other diamond has one or two inclusions. Both are fairly bright sparkling stones. Approx. 0.40ct total diamond carat weight.

The aquamarine is in good condition, with no obvious signs of damage or noticeable inclusions. The aquamarine is of pale colour saturation.

The shank at the back is showing signs of thinning and also has a small notch/dent, this is possibly a result of the manufacturing process.

The '18c' mark is indistinct.

Aquamarine approx. 9.1mm x 7.2mm x 4.8mm, measurement limited by setting.

Otherwise the ring is generally in good condition.
