LOT 1183

A late 20th century gilt brass Congreve rolling ball clock, the single fusee movement with rolling ball operated pivoting platform escapement and white dials for hours, minutes and seconds, height 34cm, within a mahogany and glazed display case, total height 40.3cm (missing ball).

Estimate: £250 - £350

Condition Report

1183. The movement winds smoothly and appears to be in good condition, but as can be seen from the description it is missing the ball that operates the escapement, so we cannot say if it is in working order.
