LOT 1614

A Bow porcelain octagonal plate with powder blue ground, circa 1760-65, painted with a central chinoiserie landscape view beneath smaller fan shaped and circular panels, painted with other landscapes and flowers, diameter 22.5cm, together with a Bow Two Quail pattern Kakiemon octagonal plate, diameter 19.5cm, and a Chelsea plate, painted with fruit, diameter 21cm (faults and restoration).

Estimate: £120 - £180

Condition Report

Bow octagonal plate - poorly restored/filled chip to upper rim edge at 9 o'clock approx 1.5cm long by 0.5cm wide, and a number of other small chips/nicks to rim overall. Surface quite heavily scratched overall with some noticeable areas of wear to the cavetto probably caused by stacking.

Kakiemon plate - decoration worn overall with some staining, a few little nibbles/nicks to rim edge which also display staining. Heavily scratched overall.

Fruit plate - approx one quarter section of rim heavily crazed with some light staining to upper surface and underside, some light wear to decoration.
