

Glassware / Thu, 20th October 2022 / Lot 1740

LOT 1740

A harlequin part suite of green flashed gilt decorated Bohemian glassware, late 19th century, Moser type, of faceted shape with canted corner green panels surrounded by gilt vermicule and foliage, comprising a decanter and stopper, five hock, height 19.5cm, five tumblers, five wine and five aperitif, height 10cm.

Estimate: £200 - £300

Condition Report

The set is in very good condition overall with no significant damage or repairs.

The decanter stopper has a small chip to the base end, and the base of the decanter has 2 small nicks to the edge. Otherwise there are a few insignificant nicks to the glasses which are predominantly on the rim and only noticeable on VERY close inspection.

The gilding is good with minimal wear.

Created: Thu, 13th October 2022 14:29