Condition Report

All carat weights and gradings are for guidance only, they are estimations and limited by the jewellery settings.

The bottom underside edge of the cluster has a fitting to take a bar link fitting similar to the one connecting the surmount to the cluster, this might suggest the piece started life as a larger piece of jewellery and has been later converted to its current form.

In general the piece is in good condition. The pearl is a little dirty.

Total diamond weight approx .40ct.

Clarity SI, some variation in colour approx. J/K
