LOT 1100

A Chinese famille verte porcelain rouleau vase, Kangxi period, the body finely painted with a continuous narrative scene of figures inside and out of a pavilion complex, beside a river, rocks and trees, unmarked, height 47cm (repaired).

Estimate: £1,000 - £1,500

Condition Report

1100. Small chip to rim. The neck is in good condition. The shoulder and upper section of the body have been broken, repaired and restored with overpainting. It has been broken into what looks like four pieces with the break lines running from where the neck meets shoulder to nearly half way down the body. Under a UV light it is apparent there is overpainting along these break lines and some small areas of filler.

The lower section of the vase is in good condition. The painting and colours are in good order with typical light surface scratches and wear. More pronounced wear to iron red keyfret border around rim.
