Condition Report

We have tested the centre stone and it is a citrine, not a paste.

The setting around the citrine looks to be gold, though the piece is a little dirty. The setting around the colourless pastes is silver.

The suspension loop to the back of the piece is soldered into position. The hinge looks to be have been replaced and is solder into position also.

There are a few chips to one or two colourless pastes and some minor abrasion to the facet edges of the citrine.
