Condition Report

The sapphire is in good condition overall. When viewed under a 10x loupe there are signs of poor polishing, i.e. chatter marks and a rough girdle in places, both largely insignificant when viewed with the naked eye. Please note that the stone has not been tested by a laboratory, we therefore cannot be 100% certain that the stone has not either been heat treated to enhance colour and clarity, or that the stone is a synthetic.

The sapphire is approx. 12.50mm x 5.50mm x 4.00mm.

The piece overall is in generally good condition.
