Condition Report

1292. The camera has been used so typical surface scratches and wear, but generally seems to be in fairly good condition. Apparently it has not been used for a long time, so a service may be required. Switches/controls appear to function but unable to check light meter or run any film through it. The lens has internal dust/dirt. The vendor has informed us that the iris for the aperture control is damaged, but otherwise the lenses appear ok cosmetically with no mould.

Other items are in fair condition commensurate with age and use.
