LOT 2572

An early 20th century mahogany cased gramophone by Gramophone & Typewriter Ltd, the case with fluted pilasters, width 36.5cm, together with a rare mahogany horn with overall fluting, probably by HMV, diameter 56cm, and a group of 78rpm records.

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

2572. The gramophone works when wound, but may need professional attention to ensure it works properly. Please note, we do not offer guarantee of working order or reliability.

Glue residue underneath the revolving disc. Lacking the 'connector' to the horn. Horn has age related wear and glue residue around the outer rim, but no obvious splits or damage.

One small pad missing under disc plate. Minor corrosion to metal parts and general age related wear.
