Condition Report

1303. Raza style painting - generally in good condition, there is some minor tears and wear around edges. Also what appears to be liquid staining (brown marks) to the surface which looks a little contrived, possibly an attempt to age the painting.

Oil on canvas - generally good condition. Some minor marks, scuffs and wear but no significant damage.

Three watercolours - also in generally good order, very much as they appear in our online images.
