Condition Report

We believe this piece is using older cut stones but may date from the first half of the 20th century. Some wear to the claws and a few of the diamonds are beginning to work loose from their settings. Clasp in working order.

Diamond grading estimation (for guidance only and limited by the setting):

on average, clarity I, slightly grey colour J/K

There is a small split to the gold at the back of the bangle, which can be seen via our website images when using the zoom option.
