

Asian and Islamic Ceramics and Works of Art / Thu, 9th November 2023 / Lot 1256

LOT 1256

A small group of Chinese porcelain, Qing dynasty and later, comprising a famille rose circular dish, 20th century, painted with a figural scene within millefleur border, diameter 28cm, a pair of blue and white baluster vases, painted with dragons, height 8cm, five blue and white bowls, a blue and white saucer dish, a blue and white oval dish with pierced rim and two small vases (minor faults).

Estimate: £60 - £100

Condition Report

1256. Famille rose circular dish - good condition, no chips, cracks or repairs.

Blue and white oval dish with pierced rim - good condition, no chips, cracks or repairs.

Blue and white saucer dish - fritting/minor chips to rim glaze, typical light surface scratches and wear to glaze. No cracks or repairs.

Brown and yellow glazed vase - good condition, no chips, cracks or repairs.

Cream glazed vase - good condition, no chips, cracks or repairs.

Pair of blue and white bowls - good condition, no chips, cracks or repairs.

Larger blue and white bowl - two minor chips, otherwise ok.

Smaller blue and white bowl - minor rim chips and small hairline to rim.

Other blue and white bowl - numerous minor rim chips and hairline crack to rim.

Pair of small blue and white vases - Generally good condition, glaze scuffed/a bit rough around rim, otherwise ok. No covers.

Created: Tue, 7th November 2023 10:32