Estimate: £500 - £800

Condition Report

20. Generally in good condition. The canvas has been laid on board. Kept behind glass and so free from any significant surface dirt. UV examination does highlight some overpainting, particularly to flesh tones and definition of roses, but touches elsewhere, this has been undertaken sympathetically. Presumably it may have been cleaned as part of the restoration process.

Gilt frame in good condition with minor restoration and minor subsequent chips to composition.

This work has not been examined out of the frame.
