

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 29th February 2024 / Lot 1623

LOT 1623

Two similar Doulton Lambeth stoneware jugs, late 19th century, each decorated with blue sprigged moulding depicting the Willow pattern, impressed and incised marks to bases, heights 24cm and 19cm, a pair of Doulton Lambeth Slaters Patent stoneware vases, late 19th/early 20th century, decorated with thistles in white and shades of green against a blush textured ground, otherwise with scrolling foliate decoration, impressed and incised marks to bases, height 27cm, and a matching cylindrical jar and cover, impressed and incised marks to base, height 14.5cm.

Estimate: £50 - £80

Condition Report

1623. Small glaze chip to outer rim of tobacco jar, staining within.

Tallest Willow jug with restoration to spout.

Other pieces in generally good condition.

Created: Wed, 21st February 2024 16:00