

British and Continental Ceramics / Thursday, 30th May 2024 / Lot 1584

LOT 1584

An unusual Doulton Lambeth faience vase, circa 1880, decorated by Florence E. Lewis and Elizabeth Shelley, monogrammed, with yellow sunflowers and blue cornflowers against a ground reserved with gilt scrolling foliage, the neck and foot painted in brown with vertical flower stems against an olive green ground between brown glazed borders, painted marks to base, height 17.5cm.

Estimate: £120 - £180

---

Condition Report

Some minor retouching to the enamels on the blue/purple flowers, and a tiny area on one sunflower, only really noticeable under close examination.

A small area of scratching and enamel loss to another sunflower. Other very minor nicks to enamels, on the rims and gilt decoration.

Otherwise in fairly good condition, with fine overall crazing, difficult to see without close examination.

Created: Tue, 21st May 2024 14:50