

Glassware / Thursday, 22nd August 2024 / Lot 1933

LOT 1933

An unusual gilt decorated cobalt blue glass ewer, Continental, probably Venetian, early 20th century, decorated with female nudes seated on large flowerheads surrounded by gilt foliate scrollwork, with high loop handle, baluster stem and gently domed circular foot, height 39cm.

Estimate: £60 - £100

Condition Report

In good condition overall with no damage or repairs.

There is some typical wear/losses to the gilding commensurate with age and handling but nothing too terrible or unsightly.

Created: Wed, 21st August 2024 11:18