LOT 2370

A large Della Robbia pottery charger by Charles Collis, circa 1900, the central domed boss with yellow flowerhead within a well and raised outer border, all incised and painted with stylized leaves and flowers, the underside with incised maker's marks and numbered '913', diameter 50cm (crack).

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

Overall typical crazing to the glaze.

There is a 12cm long haircrack to the rim, most visible to the underside, there are a couple of teeny tiny losses to the rim where the haircrack emanates.

Otherwise in good condition overall with some very minor typical fritting to the rim.
