

Antiquities / Thu, 31st October 2024 / Lot 2342

LOT 2342

An ancient Egyptian turquoise glazed faience ushabti, modelled with incised hieroglyphics to front, length 11cm, together with another smaller ushabti and a later hardstone scarab seal.

Estimate: £40 - £60

Condition Report

2342. Turquoise figure - broken through body in six places and reglued, one piece to feet area loose/detached, some wear to extremities.

Smaller figure - some wear to extremities overall, some discolouration overall.

Scarab - modern.

We have broadly said Egyptian for age. No documents of authenticity, but the family believes they were brought back the early part of the 20th century.

Created: Sat, 26th October 2024 10:04