

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 5th December 2024 / Lot 1427

LOT 1427

Two Continental porcelain repurposed wall brackets, late 19th century, of pierced half-basket form, applied with relief floral garlands, flowerheads and foliage above scantily clad putti, both with wooden backing and top, height 24cm (faults and restoration).

Estimate: £60 - £100

Condition Report

This pair of wall brackets are made from a circular basket which has been cut in half and repurposed. As this is the case there are multiple issues and 'made up' sections, including losses and restoration and obviously 're-building' to turn them into brackets.
