LOT 1250

A George III figured mahogany longcase clock with eight day movement striking on a bell, the 14-inch painted breakarch dial with rolling moon to arch and inscribed 'Thos Atkinson Ormskirk', above black Roman hour numerals, subsidiary seconds, outer date ring and scene of a lady, the arched hood with three brass finials above a dentil swan neck pediment, glazed door and inlaid stop fluted columns, the trunk with arched door flanked by corner columns, on a cut cornered base and ogee bracket feet, height 257cm, with pendulum and two weights. Note: Thomas Atkinson is a recorded Lancashire clockmaker working in Ormskirk between 1767 and 1786.

Estimate: £150 - £250

Condition Report

1250. The clock is in generally good condition, having been restored in the not too distant past.

Case is good with nice quality flamed mahogany, with some restoration including some repairs to veneers on hood and some replacement chequer banding to front. Otherwise typical light scuffs, scratches and wear.

Later ogee bracket feet. Trunk door is slightly bowed but closes and locks.

Painted dial generally good with typical craquelure and wear.

The movement appears to be in generally good order, both trains wins smoothly, striking mechanism is working and it is currently running, but please be aware we give no guarantees to working order or reliability of any clock or watch.
