LOT 2650

A Renaissance style Limoges enamel rectangular plaque, in the manner of Leonard Limosin, probably late 19th century, finely painted with a scene of St John Preaching in the Desert, 18cm x 13.5cm, within an ebonized and gilt metal mounted frame, the foliate engraved borders inset with six oval enamel cherubic plaques 38cm x 32cm.

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

2650. Uninspected out of frame as it is securely pinned in, so may be some small chips to the edges, but nothing visible. Otherwise some light surface wear and minor hairline scratching. Some minor surface wear and dirt, but generally in good order overall.
