Condition Report

2004. The marble has some minor surface scratches, but is otherwise ok. The table top does slant very slightly forwards, so could do with attaching to the wall when in place. The base looks ok, but does have a few small areas of veneer losses. Some scattered old woodworm holes around the rear edge of the base and rear uprights. Thin crack to the veneer on the right side of the plinth and two pieces of strip moulding missing at the base of the upright supports. Both of the rear block supports look original, but do have areas of veneer missing.
