LOT 1871

A set of six enamelled and gilt hock wine glasses, probably Czechoslovakian, 20th century, the bowls enamelled in ruby with stylized flowers within foliate frames, all edged in gilding, the feet similarly decorated, height 21.5cm, together with a mixed collection of other Continental glasses, including four roemers, probably Theresienthal, of lime green tint with fruiting vine engraved bowls and ribbed stems and feet, height 20cm, a ruby flashed, engraved, cut and gilt liqueur set, comprising octagonal tray, diameter 26cm, decanter and stopper and six shot glasses, and a small group of other glass, including Moser style cabochon decorated pieces (minor faults).

Estimate: £120 - £180

Condition Report

Set 6 hock - one with small chip to underside edge of foot, another with tiny nick to top rim edge.

4 roemers - each with chipped foot, 2 in addition with chipped rims.

Liqueur set - generally in good order, typical light wear to gilding.

Gilt and cut vase - small chip to outer rim edge.

Cabochon decanter - minor chipping to base end of stopper, nothing awful.

The remaining items in the lot are in good condition overall with no repair or significant damage - there is some typical wear (particularly to any gilding) to varying degrees, but nothing terrible.
